MOMMY AND DADDY, I HAVE CANCER

At Mommy and Daddy, I Have Cancer, our mission is to provide unwavering support to children battling cancer and their families. We offer counseling, personalized tutoring, and guidance to help both patients and families adjust to life after a cancer diagnosis.

Our organization is dedicated to helping each child and their family navigate the realities of cancer. We encourage open discussions about diagnoses, guide families through treatments and side effects, and provide strategies to manage emotional and behavioral changes. We also help alleviate stress and anxiety, address school-related issues, and extend support to siblings in need.

Financial Support

We offer a range of financial assistance programs, covering essential needs such as rent, utilities, housing, co-payments for medications and medical visits, as well as scholarships for young cancer patients attending college. Our services also include tutoring for both the child with cancer and their siblings, provision of children's wigs, and purchasing necessary medical equipment.

Complimentary Programs

We host a variety of free programs and events tailored for children undergoing cancer treatment in hospitals, aiming to create moments of joy and respite during their challenging journey.

HOW YOU CAN HELP

We rely entirely on on generous donations to continue providing these essential services to families facing the harsh realities of childhood cancer. Your support can make a lasting impact and change a child's life forever. Whether through a one-time donation, annual support, or sponsorship, your contribution matters significantly.
